

Undergraduate Programmes

Program Outcomes:

- A student after course completion will attain life competencies and become a better human being, will increase language competence and be proficient in oral communication and written skill.
- Students can pursue career in multi and interdisciplinary fields.
- Students can understand the use of analytical methods required for deciphering and studying effects and drawing conclusions as supported by means of their information.
- Students may have better employability in the the area of finance, industry, management, social and extension work, IT sectors, studies and many more.
- Students will develop confidence for appearing in numerous competitive assessments related to public and private sectors

: Postgraduate Programmes

Program Outcomes

- Students might be capable of following essential and theoretical approaches to the reading and analysis of unique topics.
- Students will develop an intensive knowledge of theories, ideas , studies strategies and research methods within the field and practice them in research layout and data analysis.
- Students will benefit self assurance to become an entrepreneur in the areas in their interest.

Research Programmes

Program Outcomes:

- Scholars will also develop insight for research and also study research methodology for managing the information viz identifying problems, library skills for literature search and technical skills for statistical analysis etc which will help them to present their ideas in a structured manner both in oral and written means of communication.
- Analyze creatively to advise novel ideas in explaining information and imparting new method to real problems and recognize the have an effect on of technology in different disciplines.